AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BUMFORD, Mass., 20th Dec. 1856.
Dr. J. C. Ayer: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a cold, is your Cherry Pectoral. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EDEN KNIGHT, M.D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of Otis, N.Y., writes: "I have used your Cherry Pectoral in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.
Salem, Mass., Feb. 7, 1856.
Brother Ayer: I will cheerfully testify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of whooping cough, croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your family in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people. HIRSH CONKLIN, M.D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., of Monterey, Cal., writes, Jan. 31, 1856: "I have used your Cherry Pectoral in my family ever since it was first put out, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Asthma or Phtisis, and Bronchitis.
West Manchester, Pa., Feb. 4, 1856.
Sirs: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from distressing symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M.D., of Alton, Mo., writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral for relieving colds and related to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.
Probably no other remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the Cherry Pectoral affords relief and comfort.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Pectoral has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid could procure her health relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. No hesitations, as we do your skill; for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and eating herself well.

Yours with gratitude and regard,
OHLAND SHIPLEY, or SHIPLEYVILLE.

Consumption.
Do not despair if you have tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it has not cured you. Consult the chemists in the world, and its cure all around us speak the high merits of its virtues. —Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
THE science of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these Pills have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they are unprecedently upon the system of all men. They are safe, pleasant to take, and powerful in their action. They are the best medicine for the cure of all the diseases of the bowels, and the removal of the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the full humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart health and vigor to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of fraud. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the safety and efficacy of your remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac containing directions for their use, and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints: Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a full stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Infection of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Eruptions and Catarrhs which require an evacuant medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Rheumatism of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pills that make no more profit on you. Ask for Ayer's Pills, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compare with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

The Democratic Party—Its next Rival.

The discordant elements and isms opposed to the Democratic party are now seething and bubbling in the political cauldron, under the supervision of about a gross of political old grannies, who are in hopes of making a party out of these remnants which will be able to meet and vanquish the glorious Democracy. It is proposed to construct out of these "elements" a grand "People's Party of the Union," and these doating old god-fathers of this last abortion are silly enough to believe that it will take with the people.

The Democratic party has little to fear from this threatened enemy. It has ever been the fate of the Democratic party to excite the enmity and opposition of all the fanatics in the country. It has met and vanquished fanaticism in all the forms in which the ingenuity of men could disguise it, and it can do it again. The history of the Democratic party is the history of the growth and prosperity of the country. No true American (not Know-Nothing) can review the history of the Democracy; contemplate its victories, its success and its glory, without feeling his bosom swell with emotions of pride. The history of our country for the last fifty years is a rehearsal of the continued and repeated triumphs of democracy over fanaticism and fanatics, arrayed against it in all conceivable forms and phases.

When the Union consisted of but thirteen States the Democratic party laid the foundation upon which it rose to such power and grandeur and upon which it still rests as firmly and securely as ever. Since then nineteen other States have been admitted to the Union under the auspices of the national Democracy and in the teeth of the opposition, of "the elements" under various leaders and creeds. It secured an empire from France and another from Mexico. A separate republic (Texas) was won by the Democratic party, and under its auspices our country was enriched by the golden fields of California. Under the same banner we have won a name upon sea and land which is the terror of our foes; the admiration of our friends, and which commands the respect of the world.

The Federal party was the first great opponent of Democracy. It precipitated itself in the path of progress and for a while was a great hindrance to our national prosperity. But its alien and section laws; its vindictive opposition to the war of 1812; and in short, its general British proclivities rendered it odious to the people, and it soon became powerless as a party. The anti-Masons and the "National Republicans" made abortive attempts to defeat the Democratic party. The first by exciting prejudice in the bigoted and fear in the weak; and the second by claiming to be the "only national party."

Then came the late Whig party, which for a period of about twenty years maintained a fierce and formidable opposition to Democracy. It contained many great men in its ranks and its members were from time to time flushed with hope by its partial victories over the Democratic party. But these little successes, which so excited the hopes of the Whigs, hastened the down fall of the Whig party by contrasting so conspicuously its narrow-minded policy with the progressive spirit of Democracy. It maintained its organization and struggled on until the death of HENRY CLAY, when it fell to pieces and was utterly powerless as a party before the tomb closed its doors upon its great leader.

Upon the ruins of the Whig party, the "elephants" constructed a party which they fondly believed was destined to be eternal and omnipotent, viz: the Know Nothing. Of all parties which ever disgraced the earth, this was the most disgraceful. Combining all that is hateful and vile, and ignoring everything generous and good, it started out with pretensions as ridiculous and absurd as its professions were hypocritical and insubstantial. Composed of political adventurers of every political hue and character; held together by oaths; having for its aim, office; it is not surprising that the means resorted to for success were as disgraceful as the end sought to be obtained. Being secret, its novelty attracted the green ones; being proscriptive, it attracted fanatics and bigots by the wholesale, and being new it became the refuge of a large class of broken down politicians, who had tried all other means for getting office and had failed. Having inveigled into its secret halls this heterogeneous mass, it sought to bind them there by a series of oaths, at once horrid and degrading. In an incredible short space of time it gathered about itself an incredible number of dupes, and commenced its operations. Its brief and infamous history is fresh in the minds of all. No sooner had it unveiled its hideous features than its deluded followers shrank from it aghast, and it lost members as rapidly as it had gained them. In vain its managers tried new issues and materially modified its old ones, the people had obtained an insight into its unholy designs, and they repudiated its directors and trampled its doctrines under their feet.

It is dead, and leaves behind a disgraceful record for its monument. As an engine for raising men to power and place, it proved a complete failure, but it wrought more real evil to society, moral, religious and political, than all other factions have ever been able to do. It is dead, but its marks are still with us. And while the eyes of widows and orphans are still wet with tears for husbands and fathers murdered by Know Nothing ruffians; while its numberless atrocities are still fresh in the minds and before the eyes of the people; its disappointed victims are planning for the organization of yet another new party, to be composed of "the elements opposed to Democracy." Opposed to the same Democratic party which met and repulsed the federalists in 1812, and which has opposed and defeated fanaticism in all its forms from that day to this; which has rendered our country so great and glorious—this Democratic party is to be defeated by another organization—even "The people's party of the Union"—and for what? Because, forsooth, the men who are forming "the people's party of the Union" want office.

A correspondent of a New York paper who has been traveling through Kentucky, goes into ecstasies over the beauty of Kentucky girls and horses; the excellence of the Broadway Hotel in Lexington, and speaks in the highest terms of the conductors on the L. & L. Railroad, Messrs. RICHARDSON and PENNOYER. We admire his good taste whoever he may be, and freely endorse his sentiments. The girls and horses speak for themselves, and the Broadway Hotel is one of old Kentucky's best. Under the supervision of the Evangelical Church, it has taken a front rank among modern modern one hotels. Regarding the conductors aforesaid, we say amen with all our heart. We don't believe that two more popular, efficient, and gentlemanly individuals can be found between Nova Scotia and sun-down. They are always in time, and they make their connections with a promptness and regularity beautiful to behold. May they both live nine hundred and fifty years here below, and when they conclude to "switch off," may they have a through complimentary ticket to "Sweet fields beyond the swelling flood."

The Mt. Sterling Whig has a column and a half of what it calls "Poetical Illustrations applied to Politics." We extract the following:

Neither his speech, his form, nor action has aught of grace.
Yet all his country seems beaming in his face.
And his thoughts possessed of the radiant hue of fire.

As the text is rather obscure, we volunteer a commentary thereon.

"Neither his speech, his form, nor action has aught of grace."
True, O King! His speech made up of falsehoods about the clerks of the last Legislature is in a particular manner graceless. Most of his actions are as far from grace as his speech.

"Yet all his country seems beaming in his face."

This passage is very plain when we remember that in this connection "beaming" means grinning. There is no sort of doubt that the entire country is laughing at the grotesque figure cut by the traveling agent of the Know Nothing society. The contrast between his pretensions and his qualifications is enough to make a horse laugh. "All his country" is very excusable.

"And his thoughts possessed of the radiant hue of fire."
Quite likely. The Rix Rax is near his ropes end, and it is most natural when he contemplates his acts in this world and his journey to the next that his thoughts should dwell on fire.

We perceive that the publisher of the New York Weekly is out with another novelty. A new story by JAMES A. MATLAND, author of "The Watchman," "The Old Doctor," "Sartane," "The Lawyer's Story," "Old Honesty," etc., commences this week in that popular paper. Mr. MATLAND's new story is to appear under the title of ROSA MILTON; or, the Hermit of the Sea Shore; and will no doubt add to the already handsome circulation of the Weekly. With such a succession of capital stories, by the best writers in the country, it is not surprising that this paper has at once attained a position in the front rank of the popular publications of the day. The New York Weekly is published by A. J. WILLIAMS, 22 Beekman Street, New York, and sold by all Booksellers and News Dealers in the United States and Canada. It is sent by mail at $2 a year, or two copies for $3.

It seems worthy of notice that Baltimore is the first city in the United States that was lighted by gas; among the first that introduced water pipes; the first in the world that introduced and put in successful operation a passenger railroad; the first city in the Union that erected a monument to GEORGE WASHINGTON; and the city where a magnetic telegraph was first commenced.

A negro brought suit in one of the Cincinnati courts against the judges of the fourth ward poll, because they refused his vote, laying his damage at $1000. The city assumed the responsibility of the defense, and the case was tried three times, in each instance the jury failing to agree. Plaintiff then obtained a change of venue to Warren county, where the case was tried, and a verdict of $500 damages was returned in his favor. The court then granted a new trial.

The finest and most luxurious beverage in hot weather, is a cool glass of Soda Water, and for the benefit of our friends, we advise them to go to Geo. A. ROBINSON'S "Excelsior Confectionery," and "take" some Soda for the "inner man." Nuff said.

DEAD.—JOHN MARSHALL, son of Dr. ALEX. K. MARSHALL, formerly of this State, who was shot in affray at "Rose Cottage," near Carondelet, a few days since, died at the residence of his father, near St. Louis, on Monday evening last, after several days of intense suffering.

THE EXCHANGE BANK.—The Shelbyville (Tenn.) Constitutionalist says:
We are informed upon reliable authority that the Messrs. Spence intend to exhaust all their property in the redemption of their notes. We learn also that their property will redeem their circulation, which they say amounts to $73,000. The Messrs. Spence intend to bring suit for their missing bonds, $111,000, and we learn have employed the ablest counsel in the State. We advise our readers not to sacrifice their notes.

DEAD.—The French agent, who has recently been figuring at the isthmus, wants to get up a French protectorate for the Central American States. Evidently M. Bely aches to create trouble between France and the United States.—Low Journal.

Latest from Utah.

St. Louis, June 26.
The Republican has just received intelligence that the Salt Lake mail, with Camp Scott dates to June 5, was received at St. Joseph on the 22d. Mr. H. F. Mayer, who accompanied the mail party, furnishes the following memoranda of the trip.

Encountered a heavy snow storm, lasting three days—from Independence Rock to Platte Bridge. Met Col. Hoffman twenty miles, and Capt. Marcy fifty miles from Camp Scott. Col. Johnston intended to proceed to Salt Lake City as soon as they arrived. Gov. Cumming, peace commissioners, and postmaster have gone in the city. The supplies Dr. Col. Hoffman dispatched in advance of his train, had reached Camp Scott, and provisions were plenty. June 12—left McCarty's train fifteen miles below the fort; 13th—met another of Perry's trains forty-five miles below Fort Laramie. Passed two empty trains of Major & Russell's at Scott Bluffs, returning to the States. Met McCarty's train ten miles below Chimney Rock. Passed two trains of Chomou & Avery's and Major & Russell's encamped at Laramie's Fork. 14th—met Quartermaster for Laramie at Rush Creek, and Price's train at Smith's Fork. 15th met two trains of Major & Russell's waiting to cross South Fork, which was high, but falling. Met Major Sedgwick's command of cavalry sixteen miles below South Fork. 16th—met Major Graham's dragoons ten miles and Ward's train fifteen miles below Fallen's Bluff. Passed several trains of road camp, names unknown. Met Capt. Robert's command six miles above Cottonwood Springs. 17th—met Hay's train thirty miles below Cottonwood.

Met Col. Monroe ten miles above Plumb Creek; also three trains of Jones on the 25th. Met Irwin & Young's train eight miles above Fort Kearney. Left three companies of the First Cavalry, under Col. Sumner, at Kearney. Saw three trains on the upper road above Kearney—names unknown, on the 19th. Met a train on the eight mile stretch, on the Little Blue—name unknown, on the 20th. Met Rush's train four miles from Big Sandy. Met Col. May and six hundred beef cattle for Salt Lake; also, nine hundred cattle of Russell, Ward, and Lebon's train, and Gen. Harney, headquarters at Cottonwood, ten miles west of Big Blue. Gen. Harney was traveling rapidly, and only that day learned of his appointment of Brigadier-General, on the 21st. Met the Salt Lake mail fifteen miles east of Big Blue. Wassen and Dyer's train in camp at Vermilion, on the 22d. Met three trains at Grasshopper, names unknown.

The grass was never better. All the trains were getting along well. The cattle were looking fine. Hockaday, Jones & Co., mail contractors, were pushing their arrangements with great energy and perseverance. When they get the stations arranged as contemplated, the time will be reduced to sixteen days, with ease and certainty.

Mr. Mayer, brings no general news from Camp Scott or Salt Lake.

Hon. Geo. R. McKee, the American candidate, is invited to meet Mr. Revill at the above appointments.

DUELING IN MEXICO.—A letter to the New Orleans Delta from the city of Mexico says:

A duel came off on the morning of the 3d, between an American and an Englishman, and all about our old friend Colonel Pickett. The latter said that Pickett was no gentleman, and the former said he was. So they fought at twenty paces, with Colt's revolvers, firing six shots each, but neither was hit.

A justice of the peace, seeing a stately horse riding between London and Hamstead, said to some gentlemen who were with him, "Do you see what a beautiful horse that proud parson has got? banter him a little." "Doctor," said he, "you don't follow the example of your great Master, who was humbly." "I applied the parson," the King made up so many asses justities, that an honest clergyman can hardly find one to ride, if he had a mind to it."

The Canvass.

We venture the assertion that no political party ever conducted a State canvass upon issues so trivial and contemptible as those attempted to be made by McKee and his friends, and upon which his election election to the Appellate Clerkship is advocated. The election of a ministerial officer, the faithful discharge of whose duties is in no wise dependent upon the political sentiments he may entertain, may yet very properly be used as an occasion upon which to elicit from the people an expression upon any great measure of State or national policy. And again, political leaders may, with undoubted propriety urge upon their partisans the election of their representative man to such an office as a means of strengthening and maintaining the unity of their party. But Mr. McKee appeals to the American order, and the organs advocate his election upon no such grounds. He indignantly denies that he is a member of the American order, boasts that he never entered a lodge, and avers that he cannot approve all their doctrines. More than this, the American party is admitted to be disintegrated, and its organs are become the clamorous for a new organization to be constructed upon a totally different platform. Hence, the triumph of Mr. McKee would not redound to the interests of any party, nor serve to build up any organization. Nor do his friends put him forth as the exponent of any political measure, and seek in his election an expression of opinion from the people upon it. They avoid the discussion of such an issue and refuse to stake the election of their candidate upon the strength of any such measure before the people. They turn from all such discussion and seek to raise the lowest and most unimportant issues, all which they discuss as seriously as such questions had any pertinence to the election.

The Democratic party is a political organization, based upon positive principles, and committed to a well understood domestic and foreign policy. Mr. Revill is the nominee of that party, and his election will not only serve to strengthen and cement the Democracy in Kentucky, but will be taken as an endorsement by the people of the distinct principles and measures of the Democratic party. Upon this ground the Democratic press urges his election. We would not be understood in this view of the canvass, as discarding altogether the necessity of proper official qualifications in our candidate. In this regard, however, he is beyond the reach of detection. He is a sound practical lawyer, an experienced clerk, and an accomplished penman, and a gentleman of irreproachable character, fixed habits and strong sense. He is thus personally eminently fitted for the place. But his political association and his position in the canvass as the nominee and representative of the Democratic party, involve yet more important considerations, and appeal yet more strongly in his behalf to every Democrat and every true southern man. These considerations, we have urged as of such controlling importance, as to subordinate even the superior qualifications of Mr. Revill.

Now Mr. McKee and his friends array themselves the opponents of Democracy, hostile to any movement which will strengthen it with the people, and opposed to its every distinctive measure. Yet when Mr. Revill's friends put forth the late issue made between the Democratic and Republican parties upon the application of McKee for admission, as the prominent measure of domestic policy, to which the Democracy stand committed, and upon which they seek endorsement by the people, Mr. McKee and his friends refuse to meet us, and seek to raise side questions of no kind of importance, and in their discussion attempt to divert public attention from the real questions involved in the election. Mr. McKee dwells upon the alleged incompetency of one or more clerks to the last Legislature; exposes with much noise and clamor the mistakes of the committee on enrollments, and triumphantly proves that the Speaker of the House and Governor signed some bill or other permitting painters to raffle their works, when the bill had never passed the Senate. He refers at great length to the party maneuvering in the election of a member to the State Prison, and makes other equally unimportant charges against the last Legislature. His organs chime in the clamor, and we have whole columns of their sheets devoted to a discussion of these issues. We have been content with giving a simple refutation to all these charges, and have been unwilling to dignify such issues by their discussion. We could truthfully deny that the clerks of the House incompetently might mention the sickness of the chief clerk as the cause of the irregularities complained of. We could fasten the responsibility, for the errors so much talked of, upon K. N. employees, and show that the last Legislature expended no more money for clerical labor than had its predecessors. It merely elected an additional assistant to do the work for which previous Legislatures had paid. We might further prove that the "Painter's Bill," so much talked of, was irregularly put through the Senate by Know-Nothing officials, and that the Democratic party is in no way censurable for its improper passage. Again, we might, by a full exposure of the tactics of the opposition in the election of a Keeper of the Penitentiary, convict them of a most indefensible conduct. We might in the mention of the single fact that the Democracy kept the prison double the rent for the prison derived from it in the quarter of a century it has been under K. N. control refute all their false charges against our party. But why dignify such contemptible issues by their discussion? Suppose the clerks of the House were inexperienced, and that serious mistakes occurred; or suppose the Democratic party did propose to lease the Prison upon the same terms as the last Legislature, is it a reason why the people of Kentucky should refuse to approve the position of the Democracy on the Kansas question, or should approve the unworthy coalition of Crittenden, Marshall and Underwood, with abolitionists. These charges to which we have alluded, are not mere incidents to a warm canvass, but are presented as the vital issues upon which Mr. McKee's election depends, and over a candidate for State office descend so low? We the people of Kentucky ever appealed to our grounds so pitiful and ridiculous? Why don't the organs of the party meet us upon the great issues of the day, and go before the people upon questions which will at least command the respect of the masses?

We advocate the election of Mr. Revill as the exponent of Democratic principles and policy, the prominent action of which at this time is the measure, but recently passed by Congress providing for the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution. We defend that measure as one in strict accordance with the Constitution, as involving the vital interests of the slave States, and as demanded by the equal sovereignty of the different members of the confederacy. The Kentucky friends of the American party upon that measure abandoned the south, were faithless to the interests of their section, reflected the political sentiment of the north rather than the prevailing feeling of their constituents, and fraternized with the enemies of southern institutions, the villifiers of southern people, and the aggressors upon southern rights. We have characterized their course as treacherous in fact, if not in purpose, and upon all these issues are willing to stake the success of our party before the people. We believe we hazard nothing in placing the canvass upon this basis. We believe Lecompton to-day twenty thousand strong in Kentucky, and we think the honor, and the interests of our State require that the people should speak out upon this question. Our opponents are discent to their heart's content upon all their contemptible charges against the clerks of the last Legislature. We do not believe a vote will be made or lost by any such discussion. We advocate the election of a man eminently qualified, because we think his victory will be a triumph of principles in which the people of Kentucky, as a southern State, are deeply interested.

Mexican Mustang Liniment.

Intrinsic virtue alone could insure the success which this article has attained—for Rheumatism, Salt Rheum, Burns, Bruises, Stiff Joints, or Galls, Sprain, Pole Evil, and Swellings upon Horses, it has no equal for Man or Beast. No person will be without it who has once tested its value. "And with reference to the general estimation of the Mustang Liniment, I can cheerfully say that no article ever performed so many cures in our neighborhood as this. L. W. SMITH, Ridgefield, Conn." S. LEITCH, Esq., Hyde Park, Vt., writes, "that the horse was considered worthless, (his case was sprain), but since the free use of the Mustang Liniment I have sold him for $150.—Your Liniment is doing wonders up here." Such testimony is reaching us every day. The half is not told. Every family should have it. Beware of imitations. The genuine Mustang is sold by all responsible dealers throughout the world. Beware of any other "Bragg's Liniment." It is a base imitation.
